How we collect and use your personal information

A new data protection regime (the General Data Protection Regulation or “GDPR”) is being introduced in the UK on 25th May 2018. This regime requires us to provide you with details about how we collect and use your personal information.

To put your mind at rest, this does not mean we are changing the way we collect or use your information, and to help make it easier for you to find out what we do with your information, we have created a new privacy policy which includes details about:

- your rights relating to the information we hold about you
- how we keep your personal information secure
- the types of personal information we collect about you and how we use it
- the legal basis for how we use your information.

How to find out more

Our new Privacy Notice will be effective from 25 May 2018 and you will be able to find it by visiting dtw1991.com/pages/privacy-policy. If you would prefer a paper copy, please contact us on the telephone number below and we will send you a copy by post.

Keeping you up to date

The privacy policy makes sure that we continue to comply with privacy law and regulation. There are no changes to the terms and conditions of your policy with us, including what we ask of you.

Here to help
